

INSTITUTE OF AMERICAN INDIAN ARTS

TITLE III PROGRAM DIRECTOR

The Institute of American Indian Arts (IAIA) is accepting applications for a new full-time position for Title III Program Director who provides direction and oversight for all Title III program activities. The Academic Outreach Program funded by Title III is designed to reach New Mexico's 22 Pueblo, Navajo and Apache Tribes to develop the academic skills, resources and personal motivation for secondary education. Duties include: training tutors, managing courses off-site in the community, a summer bridge program for transition between high school and college for Native American students, and related activities. Oversees budgeting, staffing and activities related to grant. Bachelor degree required. Graduate degree preferred in related educational or managerial field and appropriate organizational experience required. Full-time job description at <http://www.iaia.edu/employment.php>. Send cover letter, resume, 3 professional references to IAIA, HR, 83 Avan Nu Po Rd. Santa Fe, NM 87508. Fax # (505) 424-0505. Email: humanresources@iaia.edu. Send tribal enrollment, CIB if claiming Indian Preference. Closing date: July 25, 2008.